

Science: Living things have observable features and provide us with products. They depend on each other for survival.

Show some things that are living and some that are non living.

Living...

Non Living.....

Research the life cycle of an animal (butterfly or frog) and show it using pictures.

Our Inquiry unit looks like...

Think of something we eat and draw pictures to show where it comes from.

Free space to share some learning of your own choice.

